

Registered Trademark vs. Standard Trademark

The status of trademark registrations for Solidigm™ varies by geography. Please refer to the adjacent chart for guidance as to whether the registered trademark symbol (“®”) or the standard trademark symbol (“™”) should be used in association with our name and logo. If in doubt, or if your geography is not specifically listed, please use the standard trademark symbol.

The list of geographies in which registration has been granted is current as of December 2022 and will be updated periodically.

Please refer to published brand guidelines that can be found on Driveway here for more info and details on how ® and ™ should be used.
